LIQUIDNET APPOINTS NEW HEAD OF AUSTRALIA

Murrough O'Brien to oversee next phase of growth of dark liquidity and institutional algorithm trading businesses

SYDNEY, 21 August 2017 – Liquidnet, the global institutional trading network, today announced the appointment of Murrough O'Brien as the new Head of Australia to drive the next phase of growth for the company.

Mr O'Brien has over 12 years' experience in financial markets and joins Liquidnet from TradingScreen, where he was a Director and Head of Australia and New Zealand. Prior to his role at TradingScreen, he was Head of electronic trading for Australia and New Zealand at Citigroup. Mr O'Brien has also had business and technical roles at JP Morgan, UBS, Nomura and HVB-Unicredit in both New York and London.

Throughout his career, Mr O'Brien has also played an active role in market reform in Australia, working closely with both the buy-side, sell-side, local exchanges and regulators.

Lee Porter, Head of Liquidnet APAC, said Mr O'Brien's extensive experience in electronic trading, combined with his leadership skills, will underpin the future expansion of the Australian business.

"Murrough's high profile in the industry, extensive skill set on the vendor side and solid understanding of electronic trading and technology, makes him a potent force to lead our business in Australia," Mr Porter said.

Mr O'Brien replaces the former Head of Australia, Tristan Baldwin, who has relocated to Hong Kong, following his promotion as Liquidnet's Regional Head of Sales for APAC.

"I'd like to thank Tristan for his hard work in Australia over the past three years and for his dedication and commitment to growing our business. We wish him the best for his new regional role", Mr Porter said.
