LIQUIDNET EXPANDS EMERGING MARKET OFFERING WITH LAUNCH OF PAKISTANI EQUITIES

Institutional investors can now access large-scale liquidity in 13 Asia Pacific markets and 45 markets globally

August 1, 2017 - Liquidnet, the global institutional trading network, today announced the launch of trading of Pakistani equities, amid growing demand from buy-side Members and the recent upgrade of Pakistan by the MSCI Index from a Frontier to an Emerging Market.

“We have seen increased Member interest and a demand for liquidity in Pakistan since the inclusion of the market in the MSCI Emerging Markets index. This is an important step in establishing our presence in key emerging markets worldwide, and we see it as an appealing market for growth and opportunities,” said Lee Porter, Head of Liquidnet APAC.

Liquidnet saw record volumes in Asia Pacific this year during market-moving geopolitical events which drove demand from buy-side Members for institutional size block trades. Trading volumes were up over 21% in first half of 2017 from the previous year to date, with more than US$17.5 billion principal traded in APAC. The addition of Pakistan brings Liquidnet’s total to 45 equity markets worldwide with 13 in Asia Pacific, as the firm continues to expand its footprint in the region.

Additionally, MiFID II (Markets in Financial Instruments Directive II) is impacting global players in the asset management industry, changing the way the buy side trades in all markets and increasing the focus on achieving best execution. Liquidnet’s launch in Pakistan offers best execution in a market where this can be extremely challenging.
